(We transfer from the Norfolk Landmark the following well timed remarks on an evil which is daily growing, and which is rapidly destroying all purity and propriety of language.

The press is responsible for the introduction of words, which have no authority in the principles of grammar. Ignorance or laziness is responsible for the coinage of verbs out of nouns, and a style of writing is becoming prevalent which is abhorrent to good taste. Such words as "suspicioned" for "suspected," "suicided" for "committed suicide," "raped" for "ravished" are inexcusable. The press assumes to educate. It is corrupting language, for unfortunately, its style is accepted as authority.

Let the Lankmark's warning be heeded.

"THE WELL OF ENGLISH."

As long as any tongue is numbered among living languages it may be compared to a river which is continually receiving tributaries as its volume rolls on; and like a river it receives from its banks in one place while it encroaches on them in another. Old words become obsolete, or, indeed; take new meanings, while with new ideas there is a new coinage to give them expression and increase the vocabulary. These additions, theoretically, are made in accordance with a sound philological law, which requires them to conform to existing analogies, but, unfortunately, the noble well of English is daily polluted by a disregard of this. We have such verbal atrocities as 'burghared,' 'highwayed,' 'suicided,' 'orated,' 'arsoned,' and the like, thrust upon us day after day in the newspapers of the country until it is high time that the night editors of the country should look more closely after their night dispatches than they do at present, while Editors-in-chief should expurgate these and all similar abominations from their columns with a jealous and unceasing vigilance. But the root of the evil is with those who make up and send the press dispatches of the country. No liberty in orthography, syntax, or prosody is too great for these reckless composers, and, in view of this fact, we trust that the Press of the country will join us in our protest against the barbarisms which are sent over the wires under the name of English, when, in fact, they are a disgrace to the language, and an outrage to its law.—Landmark.

THE TREE THAT DESTROYS MALARIA.

The eucalyptus globulus or Australian gum tree, is favorably known to all residents of California, where probably not less than 1,000,000 trees are planted. In San Francisco, in front of handsome residences, you will find it with its magnificent drooping branches making an effective and graceful shade tree. In Oakland the broad avenues are lined with them, eucalyptus forests are planted in the country surrounding Oakland, and, in fact, in every county of California where the cold winter will permit it to live, the eucalyptus will be found growing.

The wonderful properties of this tree have only within the past few years been discovered and appreciated. It is justly claimed that when the tree flourishes in low, marshy, and feverish districts all miasma will cease. It destroys the malarial element in any atmosphere where it grows, and is a great absorbent of moisture, draining the the subsoil almost as thoroughly as a regular system of piping.

The eucalyptus is an evergreen, and is found in its native country (Tasmania) in boundless forests, both on the hillside and in the lowlands, under extremes of climates, both as to heat and cold, ranging from 130 degrees to 20 degrees Fahrenheit. Whether it will endure a greater degree of cold has as yet been undetermined. It is, however, worthy a trial.

Its remarkably rapid growth is a matter of much surprise, attaining, as it does, a maximum height of about 300 feet, with a circumference of from thirty to fifty feet. For timber and fuel it is exceedingly useful, and very serviceable for such purposes as the keels of vessels, bridges, etc., where strength and durability are essential. It is estimated that from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 in value of this timber is exported annually from Australia.

The leaves of this tree are of a dark bluish color, about ten inches long, an inch wide, thin and oddly twisted. They exhale a strong camphor-like odor, quite agreeable and pleasant, which, with the large absorption of water by the roots, causes the beneficial influence of the tree. It bears a small white flower, having no odor.

A STORY OF THE MICROSCOPE.

Some time ago, being in company with a medical man, whom I will call Mr. B; we fell into a conversation on the uses of the microscope, in the management of which he was an adept.

"Now, said he, I will tell you a story of what happened to myself—one which, I think, well illustrates the importance of this instrument to society, though I was put in a very unpleasant position, owing to my acquaintance with it.

I have, as you know, given a good deal of attention to comparative anatomy, especially to the structure of the hair as it appeared under the microscope. To the unassisted eye, all hair appears very much alike, except as it is long or short, dark or fair, straight or curly, coarse or fine. Under the microscope, however, the case is different; the white man's is round, the negro's oval; the mouse's apparently jointed, the bat's jagged, and so on. Indeed, every animal has hair of a peculiar character; and, what is more, this character varies according to the part of the body from which it is taken—an important circumstance, as will appear from my story, which is thus:

I once received a letter by post, containing a few hairs, with a request that I would examine them, and adding that they would be called for in a few days. Accordingly I submitted the hairs to the microscope, when I discovered that they were and had been bruised. I made a note to this effect, and folded it up with the hairs in an envelope, ready for the person who sent them. In a few days a stranger called and inquired whether I had made the investigation.

Oh, yes; there they are; and you will find them and the description in this envelope, handing it to him at the same time.

He expressed himself as being much obliged, and offered me a fee, which, however, I declined, telling him that I could not think of taking anything for so small a matter.

It turned out to be of more consequence than I had imagined; for, within a week, I was served with a subpœna to attend as a witness on a trial for murder. This was very disagreeable, as I have said, but there was no help for it now. The case was this: A man had been killed by a blow from some blunt instrument on the eyebrow, and the hairs sent to me for examination were taken from a hammer in the possession of the suspected murderer. I was put in the witness box, and my testimony that the hairs were from the human eyebrow and had been bruised, was just the link in the chain of evidence that sufficed to convict the prisoner. The jury, however, was not easily satisfied that my statement was worth anything, and it required the solemn assurance of the judge that such a conclusion was within the reach of science, to convince them that they might act upon it.

One juryman in particular—an old farmer—was hard to satisfy. Does thee mean to say, said he, that thee can tell any hair of any animal? I answered that I would not take upon myself to assert positively that I could do so, although I believe I could.

WELL, SAID HE, I'LL PROVE THEE

The prisoner, as I said was convicted, and I went home, and in the busy life of an extensive practice forgot all about my obstinate old farmer. About two years afterward, however, a person, an utter stranger to me, called on me with a few hairs screwed up in a piece of paper, which he asked me to examine and report on.

Is this another murder case? I inquired, for if so, I will have nothing to do with that sort of work.

No, no, said he, its nothing of the kind. It's only a matter of curiosity, which I should be very much obliged if you would solve, and if you will do it, I will call or send for the result of your examination in few days' time.

Having received this assurance I undertook the investigation. When he was gone and I had leisure I put the hairs under a microscope, and soon discovered that they were taken from the back of a Norway rat.

Two or three days afterward, as I was sitting in my consulting-room, an old farmer looking man was ushered in. Well, said he, has the lookout them hair? Yes, I answered, I find they are from the back of a Norway rat. Well, exclaimed he, so they are. Thou hast forgotten me, but I have not forgotten thee. Does thee not recollect the trial for murder at L——aniens? I said I would prove thee and so I have, for them hairs came from the back of a rat skin my son sent me from Norway.

So the old gentleman was quite satisfied with the proof to which he had put me, and I, as you may suppose, was well pleased that my skill and sagacity had stood such a severe proof as this, and more convinced than ever of the value of the microscope.

Here the Doctor ended his story, which I have given as nearly as possible in his own words, and upon which I believe a thorough dependence may be placed.

TITUSVILLE, PA., June 27.—John E. Osborne was blown to atoms yesterday near Parker City by the explosion of one hundred pounds of nitro-glycerine, which he was transporting in his wagon. The horse and wagon were annihilated.

We extract the following from an able article on the subject in the Richmond Whig. The inevitable 'alliance' of the South and West against the Eastern States makes speculation on the Presidency exceedingly hazardous, and we are in no haste to tempt the uncertain honors of prophecy.

THE THIRD TERM.

However true it may be that the leaders of the dominant party, and the exigencies of the country demonstrate that active and positive measures have become necessary to vindicate the Constitution and preserve the Government itself, it does not yet appear by any means clear that the other condition, which would warrant a departure from an established custom, is or can be fulfilled in the renomination of Mr. GRANT. The President has not avowed his willingness to abandon the Radical wing and to take an avowed position with Liberal or Conservative Republicans. This is the first requisite, it occurs to us. Another equally important fact in this connection is that no evidence has yet been afforded of the wish or willingness of the Liberals to select the President as their chief. Another fact, essential we deem it, is that it has not been made plain that the desired results may not be reached other than by an infraction of a custom which may almost be considered as the common law of the land.

Under these circumstances it would be wise in the Conservative party to continue its separate organization and its independent line of action until time shall have fully developed the course it will be finally proper for it to pursue. If the Liberals shall re-enact what is known as the Greeley platform, which was accepted by the Conservatives of Virginia and by the Democratic party of the United States, and General GRANT shall plant himself on that platform and shall receive their nomination, the question of most importance then for the Conservative and Democratic to consider would be is he the man who will most certainly bring victory to the Conservative banners? and in the judgment to be pronounced the point of third term would loose much of its importance as the greatest good to result from the defeat of the Radicals.

Our judgment is decidedly against accepting General GRANT as the Conservative candidate, though he should cut loose from his present allies, but he would not hesitate a moment between GRANT on our platform and BUTLER, or CONKLING, or MORTON, and such like on the Radical platform. We would vastly prefer an out and-out man of our own ilk—such a man as BAYARD, BREK. PENDLETON, THURMAN, HENDRICKS, or HANCOCK—but we would not, failing these, refuse our support to Mr. GRANT or Mr. anybody else, hitherto against us, if it can be made manifest that they are now thoroughly with us, and that they alone can rid us of the pestilent crew that has first corrupted and is now about to destroy the whole fabric of a free republican government.

LIVE LIKE LOVERS.

Married people should treat each other like lovers all their lives—then they would be happy. Bickering and quarreling would soon break off love affairs; consequently lovers indulge in such only to a very limited extent. But some people—men and women both—when they have once got married think they may do just as they please, and it will make no difference. They make a great mistake. It causes all the difference in the world. Women should grow more devoted and men more fond after marriage, if they have the highest idea of being happy as wives and husbands. It is losing sight of this fundamental truth which leads to hundreds of divorces. Yet, many a man will scold his wife who would never think of breathing a harsh word to his sweetheart; and many a wife will be glum and morose on her husband's return who had only smiles and words of cheer for him when he was her suitor. How can such people expect to be happy?

Gen. Lee one day found Dr. Cutting, the army surgeon, who was a handsome and dressy man arranging his cravat complacently before a glass. 'Cutting,' said he, 'you must be the happiest man in creation.'

'Why, General?'

'Why,' replied Lee, 'because you are in love with yourself, and have not a rival on earth.'

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Colonel Bristow, of Kentucky, now secretary of the Treasury, has refused to accept a pair of horses and carriage which a friend wished to present him for the use of his wife, who is regarded as the most ladylike and handsomest woman of Kentucky.

If all men were to bring their misfortune together in one place, most would be glad to take his own home again, rather than take a portion out of the common stock. —Solon.

A little girl sent out to hunt eggs came back unsuccessful, complaining that 'lots of hens were standing round doing nothing.'

COL. RUFFIN'S CARD.

Last week, we received just as we were going to press the Card of Col. Thomas Ruffin, announcing himself as a candidate for the office of Judge of the Seventh Judicial District.

A convention held a few weeks previous at Graham had, with unprecedented unanimity and enthusiasm, put in nomination a gentleman who seemed to fill all the requisites for so distinguished a position—learning, integrity, purity of character, valuable services to the State—to which were added, in the minds of those whose suffrage he sought, the memory of services in the same capacity, rendered with the strictest impartiality and the most unstained purity.

We do not therefore see the strength of the profession of those to whose demand Col. Ruffin responds, "who desire to see the law administered without reference to party," and who, by bringing Col. Ruffin forward, expect to attain through him, and only through him, so desirable an object. The convention had this aim in view when it selected Judge Kerr. It had before it the vivid experience of four years of a partizan administration of the law, where party zeal covered all the infirmities of professional ignorance, and where party services justified all the excesses of partizan rulings.

Col. Ruffin, might, if elected, meet all the expectations of his friends. Those who nominated and who will support Judge Kerr know he will do it. The interposition, therefore, of Col. Ruffin in the contest is an act of supererogation, totally unnecessary, and the more to be condemned, because, if still a conservative, his action secures to the damage of the party with which he has hitherto acted, and brings into contempt the heretofore honored principles of party organization.

But Col. Ruffin says there never has been, never can be a day, when he can be willing to separate himself from the fortunes (?) of the good people of his native State with whom he has so long and so earnestly sympathised. Has not his card accomplished this fact at one stroke of the pen?

The rupture of old political associations, the separation from old party friends, the shock to intimate social relations, is one of those movements in life which demand the gravest deliberation, and never to be justified but on the most solemn considerations. They are steps once taken, never to be retraced. Can Col. Ruffin conscientiously say that a public necessity has arisen which calls upon him to make so heavy a sacrifice of so much that a man holds dear? For he must be conscious that between him and his past affiliations there is now a great gulf fixed which he will find it almost impossible to replace.

In the present relations of parties, loyalty to the conservative party, is loyalty to rice, loyalty to honor, loyalty to the integrity of civilization, and whatever tends to the benefit of the other party is treason to all these principles.

That Col. Ruffin is, as some of the radicals here have confidently asserted, a Radical Republican, we might not pretend to assert. His own card disclaims that position, and there is nothing in Col. Ruffin's character which ought to weaken his claim to perfect sincerity. But we submit, that his movement is one eminently calculated to aid that party.

It is one that has had the concurrence of that party through all its stages. It is one that has called forth their most unqualified approbation. It is one hailed by them with exultation as one of the most damaging blows ever yet given to conservatism in this State. It is hailed as an accession of strength and an infusion of new vitality into an organization, whose inherent weakness and corruption was fast hurrying to death.

Is Col. Ruffin's act, then, that of the patriot, that of the conservative really solicitious for the welfare of his country and his race, and for the success of his party? Is it not rather that of a man, disappointed in his own hopes, who seeks to retrieve his fortunes by bold and desperate measures and build up on the ruins of his party the superstructure of his own private success? For the success of Col. Ruffin, as a Conservative, is the voice of its destruction. It would be the proclamation, that unity, and system, and organization were gone forever. It would announce the withdrawal of all regard to all recognized authority, the substitution of independent chieftainship for the rule of wholesome discipline, and would place the several bands of personal partisanship at the mercy of the compact unyielding ranks of an organization always prepared for action, always watchful to improve its advantages.

But deplorable as Col. Ruffins position is, on his own account, we anticipate really little effect upon the party in this district. He cannot be elected as a conservative. Apart from the votes of a few personal friends, he will have only the support of the party he has opposed, and the race he has despised. So far from the Conservative strength being weakened or divided, we believe that a much larger vote will be cast for Judge Kerr, than if Col. R. had not announced himself. The people are determined to endorse the action of a convention so unanimous and so enthusiastic. They will show their resolve not to be led away by the will of one man, or play into the hands of the party whose principle in this case, is to divide and conquer.

There being but two tickets in the field, there will be no confusion in choice. The conservatives will stand by Judge Kerr, and the radicals, through whose instrumentality Col. Ruffin appears as a candidate will support one who comes out in opposition to the regular nominee of the party to which he still claims adherence.

FOREWARNED, FOREARMED.

The animus of Col. Ruffin's movement is explained in the following resolution adopted at the radical convention at Graham on the 23rd of June:

"Resolved, That, ignoring party and the advancement of more party men, the convention deems it inexpedient to nominate a candidate for Judge, but recommends to the Republicans of this district a concentration of effort upon any proper candidate who may offer, to defeat the nominee of the Democratic party."

Judge Tourgee withdraws, and Col. Ruffin comes out most opportunely to effect the desired purpose.

Think of this, ye democrats, ye Conservatives, who are called upon to support Col. Ruffin. Remember you are called upon to defeat the nominee of your own party at the bidding of a radical convention, and remember that Col. Ruffin is the instrument in the hands of the Radical party to work your defeat.

The cordial greeting extended to Col. Ruffin by the radical paper, the New North State, whose editor was president of the aforesaid convention, and the warm approval of his card, show clearly enough that Col. Ruffin was relied upon, as the proper candidate to defeat the nominee of the Democratic party.

CONSISTENCY.

W. J. Clarke announces himself an independent candidate for Judge, against A. C. Seymour, in the 3rd District, and stands a better chance to be struck by lightning than to be elected. The Newbern Times very properly reads him out of the Republican party.—New North State.

And now the same North State, reading a man of his own party out of its ranks for the crime of independence, has the effrontery to call upon the Democrats of this District to vote for Col. Ruffin, a bolter and an independent. The game is too transparent. It can't win. The Democrats will assuredly do for Col. Ruffin what the Times has done for Clarke. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

SHERIFF HUGHES.

The Crescent notices the presence of our excellent Sheriff Hughes in Raleigh. It is understood that he is after the irrepressible Tim with a sharp stick, having an execution against him for default of taxes.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS' BILL.

There is evident duplicity practiced by the radical party on this question. It certainly is a cherished object with the northern branch of the party. They propose it, not from love of the colored race, but from hate to the whites of the South—more particularly, to secure the vote of the negro, by far too important to throw away. Consequently, though final action was deferred in Congress, it will almost certainly be brought up again. The negroes, wherever they make a show of strength clamorously demand it. Fred Douglass, the great colored apostle of his race, demands that every Republican who voted against it, be read out of his party. In this State, the party is playing fast and loose with the question. Wherever the negro strength is great, civil rights is the great question, and the great demand. Where the whites preponderate, the radicals either fight shy, or come out against it.

So, Mr. Headen in his Hillsboro speech, appeared to come square out against it. But what credit is due to the assertions of a man who found so many apologies for the bill? What faith can be put in the loyalty to his race of a man who believed that the southern people drew upon them, and deservedly, such punishments for resisting all the previous mill (?) modes of reconciliation? Or what strength of resistance could be found in a man who signed an instrument confessedly so odious to him as was the Ordinance of Secession, through fears of personal peril? Might not this same fainted hearted gentleman give way under like pressure, supposing, in the nature of things, he gets to Congress, and is called upon to vote on the civil rights bill?

The radical party, in truth favor this bill of abomination, but in this campaign it is pursuing the policy of expediency. Have nothing to do with it.

CAPT. DAVIS.

We are pleased and proud to learn that everywhere this gentleman is making the most favorable impressions and that the prospects for his election are brightening with the progress of the canvass. Those who were indifferent to his nomination because his name was unfamiliar, have found with delighted surprise so much of talent and of political wisdom concealed under so much modesty, that apathy has given place to active interest.

In Chatham, where he recently spoke, he came off conqueror, and one of his volunteer opponents, Mr. Howze, will hardly come up to the 'scratch' again. Mr. D. deliver his blows like a man, openly and fairly, but they are sledge-hammer strokes which shatter the armor of such feeble foes as Headen and Howze. He will undoubtedly carry Chatham, Headen's stronghold. It is almost absolutely certain that Johnson will go for him by a large majority.

If Orange will do what she can do, and what is confidently expected of her, Mr. Davis will surely be elected. And we feel sure that Orange will do her duty, and have the proud satisfaction of ratifying with her seal the unanimous choice of the District Convention.

POSTING.

The Republican calls upon us to "post up" before we undertake to speak for Mr. Turner. What Mr. Turner's private views are, of course we will not presume to assert. It is by his public declarations that we judge him, and to which we and the Conservatives of the District hold him. We are not willing to accept the construction put upon his utterances by a few malcontents, and by a republican paper intent to foment discord in the conservative ranks, and to that end, to distort every expression of dissatisfaction into those of hostility to the nomination so unanimously endorsed.

Nor are we willing that Mr. Turner should be kept in the false position of having his grievances nursed by a deadly enemy of his party, that the "Republican" should assume the duties of champion for one who has the means and the ability to assert and defend his own rights.

That Journal would insinuate an intimacy and sympathy between itself and Mr. Tayner and his friends, which it ought to know is a more deadly injury than the most active hostility. Mr. Turner may well say 'save me from my friends' when those who hate him, and have assailed him bitterly and continuously, now appear in the role of advisers, advocates, and sympathizers.

GOV. KEMPER'S LETTER.

Our readers have been informed of the charges against this gentleman based upon letters said to have been written to Mosby, and referred to by Wedderburn, as containing sentiments and propositions utterly at variance with his position as head of the Conservative party of Virginia, and hostile to the institutions of his country. Placing little reliance upon so erratic and unreliable a politician as Mosby, we had no doubt that Gov. K. had either been maligned, or his language distorted. We have every faith in his integrity, and his patriotism, besides having a high estimate of his intellect, and though we never sympathized in his views on the Petersburg vote there was nothing in that which might not have been the act of a thoroughly conservative man.

After reading the mysterious letters to Mosby, the long letter of Gov. Kemper in explanation and vindication seems almost unnecessary, so plain is the meaning of the first. They simply state propositions to be adopted as alternatives in a desperate emergency—propositions which no conservative in Virginia or North Carolina would hesitate for a moment to accept.

Truly the mountain has brought forth a mouse. The cloud of mystery has been dispersed in a moment by the light of truth.

AN OLD GENERAL KILLED.

General Concha the commander of the Spanish Republican forces, was recently killed at the head of his troops in an assault upon the position of the Carlist forces at Estella. He was 60 years of age, and was probably the oldest general known to history who finished his career on the battle field.

A CARD.

To the Electors of the Seventh Judicial District of North Carolina:

I RESPECTFULLY announce that I am a candidate for the office of Judge at this ensuing election.

I have been determined to take this step, by the advice of many personal friends and the solicitations of persons, belonging to the several political parties in this District, who profess themselves desirous of having the law administered without reference to Party.

Being incapable of bidding votes for such an office, upon the score of party prejudices, I should make no allusion at all to that subject if it had not been charged in some of the Public Prints (in advance of any publicly expressed purpose of mine to become a candidate,) that I had changed my party affiliations, in the hope of reward from those, to whom as is well known, I have hitherto been opposed.

Such a charge is unjust to me, and to those who make it, and I here give it my most positive denial. There never has been a day, and there can never come a day in my life when I have been, or can be, willing to separate my fortunes from those of this good people of my native State, with whom I have so long and so earnestly sympathized.

In conclusion, I beg to assure the whole people of this District, that in the event of my promotion to so honorable and important an office, I will use my best efforts to discharge its duties faithfully, for an equal, just and impartial administration of the Law.

We acknowledge an invitation to a lecture to be delivered by Hon. R. G. Eastman, before the Law Association of Eastman College, New York, July 1st 1874. Subject: "Observation on a short tour through the South, the Climate, Agricultural, Mineral, Commercial and other advantages."

The Rev. Geo Patterson, the distinguished incumbent of St John's Church Wilmington, has occupied the pulpit of St Matthew's during the past two Sundays. His sermons has been marked with that vigor of thought and force of delivery which always make them so impressive and effective.

The Rev. C. J. Curtis last Sunday, preached in Wilmington, interchanging pulpits with Mr Patterson.

Good rains has visited most parts of the country. Our own section has been somewhat slighted.

The comet is now plainly visible and will soon be a splendid spectacle. It tells its own whereabouts in the heavens;

The "glorious 4th" was celebrated here by the colored citizens with great enjoyment to themselves, quietly, and without unpleasantness of any kind. The whites of the South have no interest in the day. The suggestions of the freedom fought for and won by a whole people's united effort have no charms for those who feel themselves conquered, and, in many parts of the south, still subject to a conquerors capricious rule.

The day may come, but is not now, when it can again be a nation's universal holiday.

Acknowledgment.

We acknowledge the compliment of an invitation to attend the Regatta of the Intercollegiate Saratoga Rowing Association to be held on Saratoga Lake on the 15th and 16th inst. Very tempting indeed. Poverty is a very inconvenient thing, to say the least of it.

Tobacco Fair at Danville.

A Fair, under the auspices of the tobacco men of Danville will be held in that place on the 24th of July. Fine premiums are offered for the best lots of tobacco exhibited at the Fair. The interest of the occasion ought, as it undoubtedly will, draw many of our enterprising and intelligent farmers to the scene.

Encouraging.

The receipts in aid of the Oxford Orphan Asylum for the month of June, show a very gratifying increase over those for the month of May. The contributions in cash from the Masonic Lodges, Fairs, exhibitions and private individuals show a total of 908.42, while the gifts in kind were quite liberal, though not so much so as usual.

Let the good work be kept up. It cannot be stopped without injury to those dependent upon this mode of subsistence.

The Aldine

For July is on our table and is like all its predecessors, beautiful. It is, as it claims to be, the "Art Journal of America." The engravings are all fine, only one of which, however is specially striking "The storm in the Mountain" by Moran. Those familiar with Mountains scenes will recognize the fidelity to nature and have a faint shadow of that exhilaration aroused which is so vividly awakened by the reality.

WILMINGTON.

Our Wilmington Correspondence.

WILMINGTON, July 3rd 1874.

Dear Recorder:—It is the night before the Fourth of July, one of the few and far between holidays accorded the working man in this progressive age and country, and I must therefore confess to you that I feel very much like inditing a letter to anybody or anything, even to "My Dear Recorder."

We have had this day one of the heaviest rains I remember to have seen in this latitude. The water fell in torrents for several consecutive hours, and several of our streets were flooded from side-walk to side-walk. The amount of rain that fell was 2.80 inches. This is .05 more than fell here during the entire month of June, and but .02 less than the rain-fall for April. You may well imagine that the dust has been most effectually laid, for the time being at least.

The prominent feature of tomorrow's programme is the Regatta to be given at Wrightsville Sound by the Cassine Yacht Club. Twelve yachts have entered for the race, and the indications are that it will be the brilliant and most successful affair of the kind ever known here,—all of which is, with the proviso that Jupiter Pluvius will hold up a little. All we ask, is a fair day and a good wind. The gentlemen of the Club will manage the rest.

Politics all "rule the roast" in this quarter of the world. The Radicals in this County, as I have already written you, have made a big split, but at this writing, I very much fear they haven't luck lone enough to stand up to it. We have frightened them very badly by the premature talk of some loquacious individual in regard to our putting out a straight ticket, and they are consequently running to cover as fast as their burly black legs will carry them. The two wings have already opened negotiations for compromise, and I expect in a few days to see them announce a ticket made up of the strongest men in the two factions. I do not think there is the slightest doubt of the success of our two District candidates—Waddell for Congress, and McKay for Judge, Dan Russell, the Independent Radical candidate, builds all his hopes of success on securing Democratic votes, (did ever a big-b-d man like Russell ever lean on a broken reed before?) but in this he will most assuredly count without his host, as I don't believe there are ten Democrats in the District who will vote for him.

Col. Waddell is making a fine canvass, and is gaining new friends wherever he goes. His majority will be largely increased.

But—to-morrow is the "day we celebrate," and I am busy winding up the labors of the week, and so must beg pardon of your readers for closing thus abruptly this hastily written scrawl.

Yours,

CAPE FEAR.

A Shining Light Extinguished.

The colored circles were in a state of high excitement last week by the rumor of the elopement of "Mr." Albert Haughawout, a gemman of color, with the wife of Henry Thompson, colored, and their flight to the congenial clime and safe refuge of the Kellogg dominion of Louisiana.

"Mr." Haughawout has been a shining light among the radicals of this county, a blatant orator and aspiring politican, foremost on all occasions where gab and gas were wanted, conspicuous in all gatherings—(we think we see him now, secretary of the late radical convention, sitting cheek by jowl with a white secretary—wonder how the latter feels?) a virulent anti temperance orator, full of distrust and hate to the whites—late a delegate to the radical convention at Graham, at which place he did not stop, having his stolen prize in tow, and bound with all haste to Louisiana.

It is such glib rascals as these that impose on their more ignorant colored brethren, exacting the means of support from them, and arraying them against their best friends; and it is such rascals that the radical party elevate out of their deserved obscurity and entrust with the charge of the laws, the property and the morals of the people.

Haughawout's sun has gone down here, and his fall may infuse a lesson of distrust for a class whose stock in trade is smooth tongued impudence and bare faced hypocrisy.

Radical Nominations.

The Convention of the Senatorial District composing the counties of Orange, Caswell, & Person met at Prospect Hill on the 30th inst for the selection of candidates. From the very small number present there was not much room for excitement and the meeting seemed to have resolved itself into a mutual admiration society and then to a satisfactory distribution of the honors among those present, Mr. H. N. Brown of Hillsboro and Mr Bumpass from Roxboro, both present in the convention, were selected for the honors of the sacrifice.

We hear that the gentleman from Orange is specially pledged not to "orate" during the canvass—a deprivation which will be keenly felt by an admiring constituency.

Sentenced.

The negro John Blake who was tried before Judge Watts last week for violating the person of Miss Haley, was promptly convicted on Tuesday, the Jury being out only 5 minutes. The Jury was composed of an equal number of whites and blacks. There was no argument offered by counsel for the defence.

The prisoner was sentenced to be hung on the 24th inst. This under the circumstances is prompt justice. In this case, we would have preferred the speedy movements of old English law, when execution followed sentence almost at once. Humanity, perhaps religious demands, justify delays in ordinary offences. But the ear is sick of the cant of conversions under sentence of death and horrified at the blasphemous claim to salvation through crime—a literal application of the text "the kingdom of Heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force."

Miss Alexander.

We are glad to notice the prompt rally of the Press of the State to the defence and vindication of the reputation of this defamed lady, whose death, melancholy as it was in its actual details, was, by this slander, attempted to be invested with new elements of distress to surviving friends, and divested of the public sympathies so strongly aroused. Its publication by any of the papers of this State was a thoughtless act,—may have been a heartless one—for even if the charge were true, it was their duty to conceal, or withhold if they could not conceal, information so shocking to every sensibility. The shame of publication is increased by the previous knowledge of the utterly unfounded nature of the defamation. It is sad to think of the mischief that has been done by the publication, how much feeling has been lacerated, how much pride has been wounded, how many tender memories jarred, all, that a wanton gossip may be gratified in a malevolent purpose.

Truly the papers that gave currency to the report ought to have, stored up in their breasts, some very remorseful recollections.

Maj. John W. Dunham.

We are glad at last to welcome this gentleman to his post on the News, to which he was selected last winter. Maj. D. has been an extreme sufferer from a wound received during the war, and has consequently been compelled to postpone his duties until now.

Maj. D. brings to the News, experience and brilliant reputation acquired in a previous journalistic career. He is a gentleman of fine attainments, thorough political information, graceful and forcible in the use of the pen, and is therefore a valuable accession to the journalism of the State.

Judge Pearson.

It is more than probable that the present term of the Supreme Court of North Carolina will close the professional career of this distinguished Jurist. He is now ill at Raleigh with Bright's disease of the kidneys, universally conceded by the Faculty to be incurable, and the bar and the State must prepare for the final withdrawal from professional life, of one, who though of late years marked with some striking defects, ranks throughout the Union with the most distinguished in legal lore and legal acumen.

Orphan Asylum.

MR. EDITOR:—We are forced again to ask the use of your columns to present the claims of the Orphan Asylum at Oxford to our citizens and other benevolent persons in Orange County. We earnestly entreat them to come forward, and contribute something for the benefit of this charitable institution. This committee has appealed to them before, and not a single mite has ever gone to the Asylum through that appeal. Why is it that Orange County, (noted for her liberality in other things,) lends a deaf ear to the cries of the orphans? Certainly Orange county derives as much benefit from the Asylum as other counties: its orphan children are as tenderly nursed within its hospitable walls as any others—and why should this community (whom God has so abundantly blessed and prospered,) from day to day, forget the poor little waifs whom the Supreme Being has deprived of their earthly parents, and cast out homeless into the wide world for protection? We cannot think that our ladies have forgot them. Will not they do something for their benefit? Let them "cast their bread upon the waters" and rest assured that "it will return unto them."

Other towns and villages in our State have worked faithfully in this great cause, and Hillsboro has done almost nothing.

It is true Eagle Lodge made a small contribution, and perhaps one or two of our ladies have contributed also; with these exceptions, our citizens have appeared totally heedless of their duty in this respect.

Let us again beg our people to arouse from their lethargy and come forward and "work while it is yet day, for the night cometh when man's work is done."

We hope soon to see some advancement in this direction, either in preparing for a public entertainment, or an abundant supply of private contributions. Any contributions, any one may feel disposed to make, can be left at the store of Mr James R. Gattis, who will take great pleasure in forwarding to Mr. Mills, the Superintendent of the Asylum.

Respectfully

JAMES R. GATTIS,
C. C. TAYLOR,
DR. R. STRAYHORN. } Com.

Hillsboro, July 7th.

Bad Bereavement.

A pang of grief was shot through this community on Monday by the announcement of the unexpected death of the young and beloved wife of Mr C. M. Parks. A few brief months since, she was welcomed here as a bride, radiant in youthful loveliness, her future spanned with a bow of promise and the pathway of life, to mortal eye, strewed with all those gifts which make life beautiful and happy.

The shadows of the grave have suddenly fallen upon this picture, and while to her the brighter light of endless eternity has expanded, to him she leaves behind, the light of life is darkened and in his heart the springs of earthly joy may be forever dried up.

"What shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue."

Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicines. All who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease. The Balsam is a pleasant remedy; it is a safe remedy; it is a powerful remedy; it is a speedy remedy; it is a remedy that cures.

Married,

In Wilson, N. C, on the 1st inst, at the Episcopal Church, by Rt Rev. Bishop Atkinson, assisted by Rev. G. W. Phelps, Cicero W. Harris, Esq; editor of the Wilmington Star, and Miss Carrie G. Jenkins of Granville county.

To Correspondents.

"Conservative" has had a candid and patient hearing, and giving him credit for thorough sincerity in his views, we think he is disposed to carry his sentiments too far. "Defeat of radicalism" should be the watchword of all true Conservatives. The action suggested by "Conservative" on the contrary, would strengthen that party. Whatever strength is withheld from the Conservative vote, adds to the apparent, in fact, to the real gains of the opposition, for it is imperatively necessary that Capt. Joe Davis should go out of Orange with the heaviest possible conservative majority, and votes withheld from others, would most probably be withheld from him.

Let private grievances be buried, and let no considerations but those of the good of the whole party prevail.

We do not presume to dictate in anything we say in regard to the support of the nominations. We only advise what is rational, and what alone will secure success.

Steps already taken cannot now be retraced. Make the best of the situation.

Appointments of Capt. Davis.

We are authorized to announce that Capt. Joseph J. Davis the Conservative candidate for Congress for the 4th District, will address the people of Orange at the following times and places:

Cedar Grove,	Friday July	24th.
Hillsboro	Saturday "	25th.
Mangum's Store,	Monday "	27th.
Lipscomb's	Tuesday "	28th.
Durham	Wedns' "	29th.
Chapel Hill	Thurs' "	30th.

Let there be a rousing turnout, and let Orange greet her candidate with 800 majority. She can do it. Let it be done.

Six thousand Newspapers are kept regularly on file open to inspection of customers. Every ADVERTISEMENT is taken at the home price of the paper, without any additional charge or commission. An advertiser, in dealing with the Agency, is saved trouble and correspondence, making one contract instead of a dozen, a hundred or a thousand. A BOOK of eighty pages, containing lists of best papers, largest circulations, religious, agricultural, class, political daily and country papers, and all publications which are specially valuable to advertisers, with much information about prices, is sent FREE to any address on application. Persons at a distance wishing to make contracts for advertising in any town, city, county, State or Territory in the United States, or any portion of the Dominion of Canada, may send a concise statement of what they want, together with a copy of the ADVERTISEMENT they desire inserted, and will receive information by return mail which will enable them to decide whether to increase or reduce the order. For such information there is no charge. Orders are taken for a single paper as well as for a list; for a single dollar as readily as for a larger sum. Office Times Building.

DR. D. S. PERRY'S,

THESE Bitters must become the universal remedy of the age. There is nothing like them or to equal them under the sun. They restore the weak, invigorate the feeble, and give new life and tone to the broken down system. In miasmatic and malarious districts they are worth a ship load of Quinine powders and pills. They are specially adapted to persons suffering from Dyspepsia, Livor Complaints, Costiveness, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Chills and Fever and Piles.

TO DELICATE FEMALES,

Ladies, old or young, will find these Bitters especially adapted to diseases peculiar to their sex. Nervousness, Lassitude, Want of Appetite and General Debility, all yield to the magic charm of these inestimable Bitters.

Hear What is Said:
Hear What is Said:
Hear What is Said.

"Wonderful effects have resulted from your Dr. PERRY'S Bitters."

"My Chills are gone. I can hardly believe it."

"Send me one case PERRY'S Bitters again. Nothing like them here."

"I enclose affidavit of my case. I had to do so to convince you of the wonderful cure."

"Surely they are the most delightful vine tonic in the world."

"Dr. Wilson says that you are a public benefactor."

'Hurrah! No more Rheumatism.'
'No more headache, thanks to you.'

We could fill this paper twice over with just such genuine extracts, but the above must suffice. Our Bitters are prepared under the supervision of DR. D. S. PERRY, Member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, England, and of the Medical Clinic of Glasgow.

All orders should be address to the

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Millions and thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful, invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to direction, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Typesetters, Gold beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

which can be cured by a timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
